

Community Partnership Program

A way to be involved

The Community Partnership Program (CPP) aims to improve relationships and communication with the diverse range of communities that receive services provided by Drug and Alcohol Services South Australia (DASSA).

DASSA recognises the best way to improve the quality of our service is to have active partnerships, involve community members, and make sure community members are always the most important people in the room.

The benefits of being part of the Community Partnership Program include:

- > contributing to the development of higher quality services
- > create a healthy outlet to be heard and share community experiences
- > creating policies that are more reflective of community concerns
- > a greater ability to have concerns and complaints responded to or acted upon
- > greater empowerment
- > connection with others who have similar experiences
- > gaining new skills.

Participants can choose their level of involvement:

> Community Network:

join to receive monthly newsletters, provide feedback, and participate in time limited forums, present your story at staff training, etc.

> Community Representative (when opportunities arise):

you could be involved in meetings and working groups, attached to a clinical service to support the areas service improvement efforts, or apply to become a member of the Community Advisory Council who provide advice to, and make decisions alongside the DASSA Leadership Group

(requires a current National Police Check, evidence of COVID-19 vaccination, mandatory training).

DASSA values the contributions of community members and offers reimbursement payments for time given, and out-of-pocket costs, as outlined in the SA Health Sitting Fee Policy.
