HIA application – central vs. local

Role of the community

Where in the policy cycle have we acted?

Evaluation results!

A close-up, high-angle photograph of a vast expanse of white seashells, likely on a beach. The shells are densely packed and vary in size and shape, creating a textured, repetitive pattern. The lighting is bright, highlighting the smooth, slightly glossy surfaces of the shells. The overall color palette is dominated by off-white and light beige tones.
