Workshop: How to write and publish a paper

AIM:

- To introduce the basics of writing a manuscript;
- To provide an overview of key concepts that underpin a scientifically sound manuscript; and
- To showcase practical tips in developing a scientifically sound and consumable manuscript for different audiences (journal, report etc).

OBJECTIVE:

Manuscripts, like people, come in different types. While it is important we celebrate all different types of manuscripts, it is also important to make sure they all are underpinned by sound principles. This training series will provide AHPs with the knowledge and skills to frame a scientifically sound and consumable manuscript.

CONTENT:

Structure of a manuscript; Requirements of manuscript When constructing manuscripts – what to do and what not to do.

FORMAT:

Online via zoom, combination of didactic presentation, individual activity and reflection/feedback to the wider group. The session will be recorded and sent out to all those who have registered upon conclusion.
