

Just found out you're pregnant?

It's best to have your first antenatal appointment by 10 weeks into your pregnancy. This is to check your health, give you important information and plan the care for you and your baby.

Call your GP, Aboriginal health worker or the SA Pregnancy Infoline today to book your first antenatal appointment.

1300 368 820

Government of South Australia

SA Health